ABOUT EHCW

Join us Tuesday, March 3rd, 2026, to support Elspeth Heyworth Centre for Women at its 3rd annual SIP & SUPPORT held at Bellvue Manor.

Together, We All Thrive

ehcw is a charitable organization dedicated to supporting vulnerable girls and women across the Greater Toronto Area who are facing abuse, exploitation, and violence. Our programs focus on preventing human trafficking and helping women break the cycle of violence to achieve lasting financial independence.

Led by Order of Vaughan Recipient, Sunder Singh, ehcw is a trusted voice and advocate for empowerment, safety, and transformation.

Why Your Support Matters

ehcw urgently needs your support to protect youth at-risk and potential victims of human trafficking through our life-changing programs that provide safety, guidance, and hope. Our team of dedicated staff and volunteers work tirelessly to help women, seniors, and girls in distress— especially those isolated by poverty, cultural, or language barriers. Many come to us feeling they have nowhere to turn. Through compassionate care and inclusive community engagement, we help them rebuild confidence, stability, and strength—both mentally and physically.

“ehcw gave me hope when I thought I had none. They helped me believe in myself again.”

Your sponsorship directly contributes to:

- Safe refuge and emergency support for women and girls in crisis
- Skills-building programs for financial self-sufficiency
- Community connections that break isolation and foster empowerment

Your partnership is critical to making this mission a success. By sponsoring ehcw, you demonstrate your commitment to empowering women and girls, preventing exploitation, and fostering resilience in our community.

Together, we can change lives, create hope, and build a stronger, safer tomorrow.

Explore our sponsorship opportunities. Join us in creating lasting impact for women and girls who deserve a future filled with dignity, opportunity, and strength.
